Introduction

What you are about to learn right now is rather obscure. In fact, there is only one other book written on this particular topic. It's a hidden side of an otherwise popular spiritual practice. What you will learn is the Dark Mantras of Subjugation called Vashikaran. I call them dark because they are meant to "subjugate" or "command" people and events to your will. Often mantras are associated with pure and spiritual practices. We use mantras to achieve altered states of consciousness, We use them to attract divine blessings. Seldom do we hear about people using mantras to control another person or persons. That kind of thing was relegated to black magick and witchcraft here in the west. But is it truly black magic? Is there actually such a thing as white and black magick in the eastern traditions? Or perhaps we , in the west interpret these things in stark black and white terms?

In this book, we will discuss the Vashikaran Mantras and their dark powers. Before we do that, I will cover a few pertinent topics you must learn before you use these powerful and mysterious mantras.

Chapter 1: What Are Mantras?

When one thinks of Mantras we tend to think of the most famous mantra; OM. OM is, in fact, the primordial mantra; a mantra that the divine used to create all of the universe. It is no coincidence that many other mantras start with OM. It charges it with power.

The very word Mantra indicates what it is. It is originally in Sanskrit and is comprised of two words. MAN which is the root word for the "MIND" and TRA the root word for "Instrument". It is literally an instrument of the mind. It is said that ancient gurus and sages had the ability to hear the primordial sounds of the universe as well as the root sounds and vibrations of the gods. They realized these sounds are the very sounds of creation. These very sounds that are at the core of everything, even the divine itself. Modern Quantum physics backs this with the idea of String theory. The theory suggests that the very core of the universe is composed of strings that vibrate a certain frequency. We are not talking atoms but sub, sub , sub atomic...the core of it all. The core vibratory energies of all there is and will ever be.

The original Mantras were composed in Sanskrit. Sanskrit letters contain energetic principles that when pronounced produce changes in the surrounding energy field . The first Mantras ever composed can be found in the Vedas. The Vedas are the most sacred texts of the Hindu faith and some would say the most ancient texts known to man.

The use and function of a mantra as well as their structure varies from tradition to tradition. We often think that Hinduism is one homogenous religion, however, it is incredibly rich and diverse. Probably the most diverse religion in the world. In all traditions, mantras play a role, but some place added importance to them. For example, in the Mysterious Hindu Tantric traditions the Mantra itself contains the very essence of A God or Goddess. Almost as if the Mantra itself was the very name of the deity. So when they are recited, they immediately invoke the power of that deity.

In some schools, Mantras are given specific meaning and are attached to human aspirations such as to gain peace, love and what have you. In other traditions they do not mean anything. But rather their very sound conveys certain energies. Essentially, a Mantra may not have any translatable meaning but rather is used to invoke a certain energy to be experienced.

In this book, we will be dealing with one of these schools of thought; we are using them more for the energy they represent and how to use them to subjugate people and events to our will.

Chapter 2: Is It Evil Or Just A Misunderstanding?

In the west we tend to think of things in stark terms when it comes to our spiritual beliefs. Things are either good or bad. There are angels in heaven and demons in hell. God is all good and the devil is all bad. This linear simplification is by far the most foolish idea that plagues the Magickal community and religionists in general. Life is never linear so do we suppose that the divine realms are linear as well? The human mind hates contradictory or ambiguous ideas and so we compartmentalize it to be linear and black and white. In reality, however NOTHING is linear and EVERYTHING is from the divine. Yes, even the so called "demons". As the kabbalah says, The devil is simply Gods shadow. Even in the bible God is specifically clear on this.

Isaiah 45:7 " I form the light and create darkness, I bring peace and create evil: I THE LORD DO ALL THESE THINGS"

This passage is under every westerners nose but it is ignored. It has become a spiritual blind spot. One that has not only detracted from our understanding of the divine, but limits us to its vast power. As the divine is not black or white but both, so too do we have this power and we are encouraged to use it.

Although the mantras we will be using are considered "dark" and this might even be considered black magick to the westerner, we need to understand that the origin of these mantras is not as clear cut. They are derived from Hinduism and their conception of deity and good and evil are quite different. Personally speaking, I also feel it is the most "healthy" way to view deity.

In order to understand the eastern conception of deity, one needs to rethink the common definitions for words like " Good" and "Evil". Often we will consider anything that is destructive as evil and anything life-affirming as good. For simplicities sake, that makes perfect sense. It nicely compartmentalizes the two. However, in eastern traditions, the definition of good and evil are not quite so clear cut. Death and destruction in the their conception is often looked upon as necessary states that must occur for rebirth and growth to happen. The yin and yang, life and death. In the western conception, these 2 things are looked upon in very black and white terms as I mentioned above. Both the "Good" Gods and the " Bad" Gods have a few overlapping characteristics. You can have a "good" goddess act in a way that any westerner would consider to be evil. However, here is where I will say they are different. There is a difference between evil and wrathful. This is important to discern. Many beneficent Gods and Goddess have a wrathful side. Don't you? Even God in the book of Isaiah stated as much. We would equate this wrath with evil, but it is not evil but a form of spiritual equilibrium, you must have both sides. This is VERY important to keep in mind as we proceed, otherwise, the mantras will not make sense and may produce an unfounded fear in them. Like any magickal energy, it molds to the intention of the magician. You can take an otherwise "benign" mantra and use it in nefarious ways. The sky is literally the limit.

In the next chapter, we will discuss what Vishikaran is and what mantras in this category can be used for.

Chapter 3: Vashikaran

Vashikaran, like the word Mantra is comprised of two words. VASHI means to " Allure, to entice, to subjugate or to attract" and KARAN means " The Method of doing". In short "The method of Subjugation."

The art of Vashikaran can be found throughout the Hindu scriptures. Sages and mystics and even the Gods used mantras and incantations to attract people to them or to control people and events. People, unto this day use it to attract new loves, mend broken relationship, to gain favor from others and even to calm disobedient children. Those all sound like good things, but they can also be used to harm people and control them for nefarious purposes. I supposed one could say that Vashikaran is like putting a spell on someone using Mantras.

In many ways, Vashikaran is more than just a few mantras that one's says to attract or subjugate, but is an entire occult science in its own right. Its main purpose is to empower the magician. It gives the magician the power to control every aspect of a person; be it their minds, behaviors, actions, feelings and thoughts...Essentially... subjugation. Now before I go on I'd like to say that a person can subjugate someone for positive reasons. Subjugation is not evil in its own right. If you are trying to stop someone from making a mistake and you use these powers to stop them, you are helping them. The part I think people are concerned with is the fact that Vashikaran disconnects the subjugated person from exercising their own free will. It's this fact that makes these mantras dark or "black". But in reality, they can be used for "good" as well.

In the next Chapter, we will cover several Vashikaran Mantras and their application.

Chapter 4: Vashikaran Mantras And Their Application

In this chapter we will go through various Vashikaran mantras. Since the mantras are originally in Sanskrit, I will transliterate them into English. We will go through several sessions in which I will show you how to use these mantras. I must warn you, these mantras are powerful and are very effective. Be careful what you ask for, you just might get it.

How to Enhance Your Mantra Practice - Achieving Siddhi

Now that you have learned the mantras, I want to add some additional information here that will really up the effectiveness of these mantras and any mantra practice for that matter. As you saw, most of the mantras can be recited a few times and some, many more times. When doing so, you compound the energy upon itself and then it produces results. Its like a charge builds up and eventually fires, producing the goal. This is generally how mantras work and often once the result is achieved, the energy dissipates and that will be the end of the ritual. But what if you could ALWAYS embody the energy of the mantra? There is a way and It is called Siddhi.

Siddhi, in Sanskrit means "perfection" "accomplishment" and "Attainment" of magical abilities. When one achieves Siddhi with a particular mantra they acquire the actual energy of that mantra. So for example, the Main Attraction Seed Mantra is "Kleem". If you recite this 10,000 times in one sitting, you will have mastered the energy of this mantra and your attraction abilities will be enhanced and things will come naturally to you. After you achieve Siddhi, you will be unstoppable, with every recitation of the mantra after Siddhi you are a true and effective magician. Some schools of thought say that you do not need to do all 10,000 in one sitting but over 40 days. Follow your intuition on whether you want to do these chants in one sitting or several.

In saying this, if you want to enhance any of these mantras, I suggest chanting them 1,000 to 10,000 times in one sitting. I know this sounds like a lot, but once you get into the groove with the mantra the recitation will move very quickly. To keep track of this, I suggest you use Mala beads. I personally use this brand: TIBETAN BUDDHIST MEDITATION 108 BEADS

It has 108 beads; 108 is a sacred number and common in Hindu chanting. Although some of the mantras in this book require fewer than 108 recitation; I highly suggest you chant a mantra at least 108 times a day. With these Mala Beads, it will be easy to keep track. If you do 10 rounds of 108 recitations, you will be on your way to achieving Siddhi. You can, of course use any mala beads or create your own.

Conclusion

What you have learned here is VERY powerful and I suggest you use them with care. These mantras are like electricity, the energy will flow in the direction of the intended output. In saying that please be firm in your intentions and make absolutely sure what you want is truly what you want.

As I mentioned earlier, be careful what you ask for , you just might get it.
